The community of Circle C Ranch is one of Austin's oldest planned communities. Circle C Ranch's development dates back to 1982. Just four short years later, the first homes in Circle C Ranch were completed and approved for occupancy.

Although the community is about 40 years old, it remains one of the most prestigious areas of Austin. The majority of the residences in the community were designed and constructed by award-winning companies.

Community members have access to many desirable amenities, including four swim centers and roughly 500 acres of parks and outdoor green spaces. Circle C Ranch also boasts a tennis club, access to the Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center and the Grey Rock Golf Club.

Currently, there are more than 5,600 homes in Circle C Ranch, and residents reach downtown Austin in under 20 minutes via the TX-1 Loop N.

By venturing just outside of the Circle C Ranch community, residents can take advantage of everything Austin has to offer. They can schedule boat tours on Lake Austin or the much larger Lake Travis. They can also visit the Texas Honey Bee Farm or the Austin Zoo. Circle C Ranch residents also enjoy some of the best eating opportunities in the nation. For those seeking a relaxing dining experience, District Kitchen & Cocktails is an excellent option. Alternatively, diners in the mood for a more sophisticated dining experience can visit a restaurant such as CARVE American Grille.

The adventure and eating options alone make Circle C Ranch a great place to live. However, Austin's world-class live music scene makes the community even more desirable.
