Kingwood, sometimes known as the “Livable Forest,” is a Houston Super Neighborhood on the northeast side of the city. Kingwood began as a master-planned community created by the Friendswood Development Company in 1971, then was officially annexed by the city of Houston in 1996.

Residents live in one of more than 30 named neighborhoods or villages within Kingwood, each of which has its own playground for village residents. Today, Kingwood is known for its abundance of nature even amongst a growing city.

A crowning feature that residents of Kingwood can enjoy is its “greenbelt,” a natural area that runs for over 75 miles throughout the community. In addition to enjoying its inherent beauty, trails in the greenbelt also benefit community members by providing a safe way to walk to nearby schools, parks, and other locations.

While Kingwood’s status as a haven for natural beauty makes it an excellent place for walking, fishing, and other outdoor activities, its relative proximity to downtown makes it just as easy to participate in the excitement of a major metropolitan area.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Lake Houston Chamber of Commerce

110 West Main Street, Humble | 281-446-2128

Businesses in Kingwood partner with the Lake Houston Chamber of Commerce, also known as Partnership Lake Houston. Hurricane Harvey destruction moved Lake Houston leaders to develop the partnership to ensure that businesses in the areas of Atascocita, Humble, Kingwood, Summerwood, and Fall Creek were united and able to thrive.

The largest chamber of commerce in Houston is the Greater Houston Partnership. The Partnership’s goal is to make a positive impact on the region, seeking members who are committed not only to their own business but to the community as a whole.

Other chambers of commerce located in Houston include the Houston Northwest Chamber of Commerce, Greater Houston Black Chamber, Houston West Chamber of Commerce, Houston Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, and the Greater Houston LGBT Chamber of Commerce.
