Spicewood, Texas, is a charming, unincorporated town in Travis and Burnet Counties, situated in the scenic Texas Hill Country. The town, known for its beautiful surroundings, offers residents and visitors a peaceful setting. It's located just 22 miles northwest of downtown Austin, making it a serene escape from the hustle and bustle of the city while remaining within easy driving distance of desirable amenities.

One of Spicewood's defining features is its proximity to the Colorado River's Lake Travis. This sprawling reservoir represents a hub for outdoor activities such as boating, fishing, swimming, and camping. The shores of Lake Travis are dotted with parks and recreational areas, providing ample opportunities for picnicking, hiking, and nature watching.

For those interested in a private camping experience, Krause Springs is a privately owned campground and swimming site with 32 natural springs. There are lush gardens to explore and a man-made pool that offers a refreshing retreat during the hot Texas summers. They also offer primitive campgrounds for those interested in something a bit simpler.

In addition to its natural attractions, Spicewood has a vibrant community with a deep appreciation for the arts, music, and local cuisine. It's even been the home of country music legend Willie Nelson. Visitors can head on over to Iron Wolf Ranch for homegrown spirits and live music or make their way to It's All Good BBQ, one of the most popular BBQ joints in Texas.

The community is tight-knit, with residents taking pride in their town's peaceful vibe and natural beauty. Friendliness represents a way of life, and the people are committed to making newcomers feel welcome. Local businesses, including quaint shops and family-owned restaurants, contribute to the area's charm and appeal.

Overall, the town is a cultural bright spot in the popular Texas Hill Country. As such, it is a great destination for visitors to the area, as well as those looking for a peaceful place to call home.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Austin, TX 78738 | (512) 387-3180

Spicewood does not have its own chamber of commerce. The organization, located very close to Spicewood, remains incredibly active year-round. Joining the Lake Travis Chamber of Commerce is a great way of enhancing your company's reputation among consumers. For the non-business owner, getting more active in chamber activities offers the opportunity to shape the direction of the community and protect the scenic reputation of the community.
